

Day 1 –

Introducing Angaza Lutheran Pre & Primary English Medium School: Located in the village of Usa River

In 2012, a group from St. John's Lutheran Church in Bakersfield, California, visited Tanzania after hearing about a deep need for the building of a Christian school in the village of Usa River. They came home to share the request of The Evangelical Lutheran Church of Tanzania. The team carried the hope that the people of St. John's might sponsor the education of 10 students. Instead, sponsors stepped up for 86 children, and a school was born.

Every year, the generosity of God's people surpasses expectations; God-sized dreams are continuing to come true.

Day 2

Angaza Lutheran Pre & Primary English Medium School : Pastor Joel Malaki, headmaster

- The school opened in January 2014 with the first two buildings dedicated that summer.
- Enrollment grew – adding a grade level each year. Every year, as a new class is added, both the size of the school and the need for sponsors grow.
- Additional classroom buildings were constructed in 2015
- Current enrollment is 100 Pre-primary and 300 Primary students

Day 3-

Angaza Lutheran School, Pre & Primary School is growing:

- Why - a strong emphasis on education is the key to fighting poverty.

- Impact – Traditionally, primary schools are taught in Swahili and have an average classroom of 80 students. Secondary schools are only taught in English which limits the number of students who can further their educations.
- Future - Angaza offers faith-based learning taught in English, allowing the opportunity for a child to continue their education.
- Students have access to food, clothes, and an education that will IMPACT THEIR COMMUNITY and bring forth a BRIGHTER TOMORROW.

Day 4-

Angaza Lutheran School, Pre & Primary English Medium School: Wish List

- Additional bus/buses. Transportation for current students is over capacity requiring multiple runs daily
- The current campus has reached student capacity. A second campus at Maji ya Chai is being explored.
